2 Notice

Internal Revenue Service and Department of Labor regulations require that written disclosure of certain information be furnished to a fiduciary of an employee benefit plan, as defined by ERISA. The disclosure must accompany life insurance or annuity purchases made with plan assets after October 31, 1977. This disclosure statement must be signed by the broker and by an independent fiduciary of the plan.

The undersigned is referred to in this statement as "broker." Broker is not an "affiliate" of Standard Insurance Company within the meaning of the regulations, although Standard Insurance Company products are being proposed. Broker is an independent agent who is not limited to selling only Standard Insurance Company's products.

3 Commission (Attach the current commission schedule. Contact your Master General Agent or our sales team if need a current schedule.)

The broker will receive commission, as shown below, as a percentage of gross annual premium or total fund value on the product that will be used to provide benefits under the plan.
