Qualified Joint and Survivor Annuity Notice (Applicable only if a plan is subject to ERISA provisions.)

Qualified Joint and Survivor Annuity

Married Participants

The law requires that benefits from this plan be paid in the form of a Qualified Joint and Survivor Annuity ("QJSA"), unless you elect another benefit option offered by the plan. If you decide to elect a benefit option other than a QJSA, then your spouse must consent in writing to your election. Your spouse's signature must be witnessed by a Plan Representative or a Notary Public. Your election must be made no more than 90 days prior to the date distributions commence (however, at least seven days must elapse from the time you receive this QJSA explanation to the time of the distribution). The election (or spousal consent to the election) may be revoked at any time within those 90 days. If you decide to change the benefit option before distributions commence, then you must again obtain your spouse's written consent as described above.

For married participants, a QJSA benefit is a Joint and Survivor Annuity. Monthly payments are made for your life. After your death, monthly payments, usually of 50 percent of the amount you received, are made to your spouse for life. The total amount payable as a QJSA must be the actuarial equivalent of the amount that would be payable to you in a Life annuity. The monthly payment amount paid during your life will be less than it would be in a Life Annuity based on a single life.

The law also requires that any and all survivor benefits from this plan be paid to your spouse, unless you designate a different beneficiary. If you decide to designate a beneficiary other than your spouse, then your spouse must consent in writing to your beneficiary designation. Your spouse's signature must be witnessed by a Plan Representative or a Notary Public.

Unmarried Participants

The law requires that, unless you elect otherwise, benefits from this plan be paid in the form of a Single Life Annuity: you will receive monthly payments for your life, and then no payments are made after your death. If you decide to elect another benefit option offered by the plan, your election must be made no more than 90 days prior to the date distributions commence (however, at least seven days must elapse from the time you receive this QJSA explanation to the time of the distribution). You may revoke your election at any time within those 90 days.

If any survivor benefits are payable through the benefit payment option you have chosen, then you may designate a beneficiary to receive those survivor benefits.

1 Spousal Consent (Applicable only if a plan is subject to ERISA provisions.)

Important: This section must be completed if this 403(b) TSA is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA). If you are not sure whether or not this 403(b) TSA plan is administered under ERISA, please contact one of our annuity specialists at (800) 247-6888. Your spouse must complete this section if your account balance has ever been greater than $5,000. Your spouse's signature must be witnessed by an Authorized Plan Representative or a Notary Public.

1 Notice

Sound investment practices, as well as state regulations, dictate that annuity brokers who recommend the purchase or exchange of an annuity must have grounds to believe that the transaction is in the purchaser's interest and is appropriate for the purchaser's financial needs and goals. As part of this process, you and your broker should engage in a thoughtful, thorough interview in order to understand your financial background, and current and future needs. Below is a list of suggested topics for discussion. The collection and discussion of this information is for your benefit. It will be used to help your broker determine if an annuity is a suitable investment for you. This information will not be used for any other purpose and will remain confidential.

2 Topics for Determination of Suitability

- Financial status, net worth and current assets, including any existing annuity or life insurance
- Annual income
- Tax status
- Risk tolerance
- Investment objectives
- Current and future monthly financial needs
- Anticipated need to access cash values in the near future (versus the annuity's surrender charge schedule and IRS pre-age 59½ tax penalty, if applicable)
- Any other information relevant to determining whether the annuity is suitable

3 Acknowledgement

Determining the suitability of an annuity contract for a purchaser is the responsibility of the insurance broker, not of the insurance company. In recommending the purchase of an annuity (or the exchange of an annuity that results in another insurance transaction or series of transactions), an insurance broker shall have reasonable grounds for believing that the recommendation is suitable for the purchaser. This determination is made on the basis of facts, disclosed by the purchaser, as to his/her investments and other insurance products, and current financial situation and future financial needs.

Before executing the purchase (or exchange) of an annuity that is the result of the broker's recommendation, an insurance broker shall make reasonable efforts to obtain information about the purchaser's age, financial status, tax status, investment objectives and any other relevant information used or considered to be reasonable by the insurance broker in making the recommendation.

Notice of Replacement of Life Insurance or Annuities

1 Important Notice: Replacement of Life Insurance or Annuities

(This notice must be signed by the applicant(s) and broker, with the original sent to Standard Insurance Company and a copy left with the applicant(s).)

You are contemplating the purchase of a life insurance policy or annuity contract. In some cases this purchase may involve discontinuing or changing an existing policy or contract. If so, a replacement is occurring. Financed purchases are also considered replacements.

A replacement occurs when a new policy or contract is purchased and, in connection with the sale, you discontinue making premium payments on the existing policy or contract, or an existing policy or contract is surrendered, forfeited, assigned to the replacing insurer, or otherwise terminated or used in a financial purchase.

A financed purchase occurs when the purchase of a new life insurance policy involves the use of funds obtained by the withdrawal or surrender of or by borrowing some or all of the policy values, including accumulated dividends, of an existing policy or contract to pay all or part of any premium or payment due on the new policy. A financed purchase is a replacement.

You should carefully consider whether a replacement is in your best interests. You will pay acquisition costs and there may be surrender costs deducted from your policy or contract. You may be able to make changes to your existing policy or contract to meet your insurance needs at less cost. A financed purchase will reduce the value of your existing policy and may reduce the amount paid upon the death of the insured individual.

We want you to understand the effects of replacements before you make your purchase decision and ask that you answer the following questions and consider the questions on page 2 of this form.

- A. Are you considering discontinuing making premium payments, surrendering, forfeiting, assigning to the insurer or otherwise terminating your existing policy or contract? ☐ Yes ☐ No
- B. Are you considering using funds from your existing policies or contracts to pay premiums due on the new policy or contract? ☐ Yes ☐ No
- C. If you answered "Yes" to either of the above questions, list each existing policy or contract you are contemplating replacing (include the name of the insurer, the insured or annuitant, and the policy or contract number, if available) and whether each policy or contract will be replaced or used as a source of financing:

INSURER NAME	CONTRACT/POLICY NUMBER	NAME OF INSURED OR ANNUITANT	REPLACED (R) OR FINANCING (F)
_____	_____	_____	_____

Make sure you know the facts. Contact your existing company or its agent for information about the old policy or contract. If you request, an in force illustration, policy summary or available disclosure documents must be sent to you by the existing insurer. Ask for and retain all sales material used by the agent in the sales presentation. Be sure that you are making an informed decision.

3 Important Replacement Issues

A replacement may not be in your best interest, or your decision could be a good one. You should make a careful comparison of the costs and benefits of your existing policy or contract and the proposed policy or contract. One way to do this is to ask the company or agent that sold you your existing policy or contract to provide you with information concerning your existing policy or contract. This may include an illustration of how your existing policy or contract is working now and how it would perform in the future based on certain assumptions. Illustrations should not, however, be used as a sole basis to compare policies or contracts. You should discuss the following with your agent to determine whether replacement or financing your purchase makes sense.

Policy Value

- Acquisition costs for the old policy may have been paid, and you may incur costs for the new one.
- What surrender charges do the policies have?
- What expense and sales charges will you pay on the new policy?
- Does the new policy provide more insurance coverage?

Insurability

- If your health has changed since you bought your old policy, the new one could cost you more, or you could be turned down.
- You may need a medical exam for a new policy.
- Claims on most new policies for up to the first two years can be denied based on inaccurate statements.
- Suicide limitations may begin anew on the new coverage.

If you are keeping the old policy as well as the new policy

- How are premiums for both policies being paid?
- How will the premiums on your existing policy be affected?
- Will a loan be deducted from death benefits?
- What values from the old policy are being used to pay premiums?

If you are surrendering an annuity or interest sensitive life product

- Will you pay surrender charges on your old contract?
- What are the interest rate guarantees for the new contract?
- Have you compared the contract charges or other policy expenses?

Other issues to consider for all transactions

- What are the tax consequences of buying the new policy?
- Is this a tax-free exchange? (See your tax advisor.)
- Is there a benefit from favorable “grandfathered” treatment of the old policy under the federal tax code?
- Will the existing insurer be willing to modify the old policy?
- How does the quality and financial stability of the new company compare with your existing company?

Tailored Income Annuity

Retirement income to suit your needs

Standard Insurance Company
Tailored Income Annuities

Are you prepared?

According to a study by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the life expectancy of someone who retires at age 65 averages more than 18 years. To fully enjoy all those years of quality retirement, many are finding that they're in need of a financial option that can:

- Supplement income from Social Security, a pension plan or investments;
- Provide financial stability in the event of a long-term illness or nursing home stay; and
- Ensure against outliving savings.

An Income Guaranteed

The Tailored Income Annuity is designed precisely to insure against outliving an income. It provides regular, guaranteed income payments for life (or a chosen period). This annuity is an excellent way to maintain an income stream matched to personal financial needs while adding the flexibility of lump-sum payment options.

Eligibility

A Tailored Income Annuity may be established for an owner and annuitant age 90 or younger. The minimum premium amount is $15,000 and the maximum is $1,000,000. Greater amounts may be considered, but must receive home-office approval prior to application.

Tax-Qualification Options

This annuity may be established as an Individual Retirement Annuity, 403(b) Tax-Sheltered Annuity or Simplified Employee Pension to initiate or continue a qualified retirement savings account.

Lump-sum deposits and complete or partial exchanges of non-qualified funds may also be accepted into this annuity.

Tax Consequences

The payments generated from the purchase of this annuity will generally be taxable in the year in which they are received. The good news is that often people move to a lower tax bracket during this time of their lives and will likely pay less in taxes than they would have just a few years earlier. The amount of the payment that is deemed taxable will be based on the tax status of the funds under IRS guidelines.

Time to Reflect on the Purchase

From the date the annuity contract is delivered, an owner has 30 days to consider the purchase. If the transaction is terminated during those 30 days, Standard Insurance Company will return all premium, net of any withdrawals taken.

Tailor Your Annuity

Life Income Commutation

A special, optional feature available in the Tailored Income Annuity allows the addition of a commutation feature to many of the life income payment options.¹

If this feature is added at the time of application, in any contract year (after an initial two years) up to 10 percent of future benefits may be commuted to a lump-sum payment. After exercising this feature the remaining payments will be reduced by the percentage commuted. A maximum of 20 percent of future payments can be commuted over the lifetime of a contract.

Inflation Protection

On many of the income options, an election may be made to guard against the effects of inflation with an annually increasing payment of 1 percent, 2 percent, 3 percent, 4 percent or 5 percent. If this option is selected at the time of application, the increased payments would begin one year after the first payment and would increase annually thereafter.

Illustrations of Life Income Commutation

Commutation is a substitution or exchange of one kind of payment for another. With the Tailored Income Annuity some routine, ongoing payment streams may be “commuted” to a lump-sum payout.

Frank is retiring early.

Age:	55
Premium:	$100,000
Income Option:	Life Income
Optional Feature:	Life Income Commutation
Monthly Payment:	$544

Today Frank is buying an immediate annuity. He is choosing the Life Income payment option and will receive $544 every month as long as he lives. He is also adding the Life Income Commutation feature, as he knows there are many unplanned events that could happen during such a long retirement.

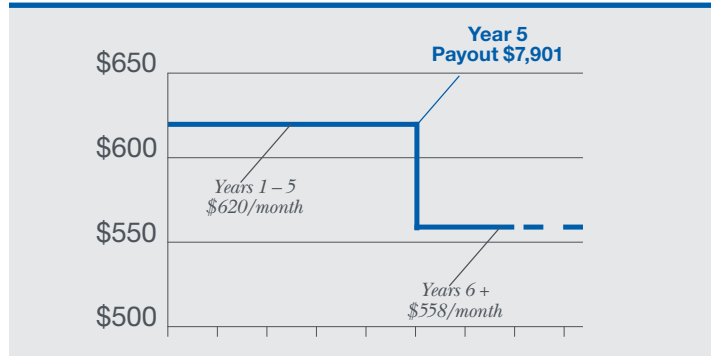

Eight years from now, Frank will find himself in need of a knee replacement. Realizing he can do with less than his current monthly income, he will choose to commute 7 percent of his future annuity payments and use the $5,340 to help offset the costs. Exercising this feature will reduce his lifetime monthly payments to $506.

Four years later, Frank will find that his daughter is in need of financial assistance after being laid off from her job. Frank this time will commute 10 percent of his future payments, the maximum available to him during any contract year. After the payout of $6,870, he will find himself with a monthly income of $452 for the duration of his life — and he still has the option to commute 3 percent more during any future contract year if he finds the need.

Betty is enjoying life.

Age:	65
Premium:	$100,000
Income Option:	Life Income w/ 10-Year Certain Period
Optional Feature:	Life Income Commutation
Monthly Payment:	$620

Today Betty is taking money from the pension plan to which she's been contributing for 30 years and buying an immediate annuity. She is choosing the Life Income with 10-year Certain Period payment option to ensure that she will receive a lifetime of monthly payments. She will receive $620 every month during her lifetime and if she happens to die before 10 years, her beneficiary will receive the remaining payments. Betty is also adding the Life Income Commutation feature, as she likes the idea of retaining some flexibility with such a large investment.

In five years, Betty will be surprised with the opportunity to go on a once-in-a-lifetime family cruise on the Mediterranean. Knowing that she will be fine with a reduction in her payments, she will choose to commute 10 percent of her future payments for a payout of $7,901. This commutation will reduce her lifetime monthly payments to $558 and she will retain the option of commuting up to 10 percent more of her future payments during any future contract year.

Harold is ready to sit back.

Age:	75
Premium:	$100,000
Income Option:	Life Income w/ Installment Refund
Optional Feature:	Life Income Commutation
Monthly Payment:	$797

Today Harold is annuitizing his deferred annuity contract to begin receiving an income stream. He is choosing the Life Income with Installment Refund payment option and is adding the Life Income Commutation feature, just to keep his options open. He will receive $797 every month during his lifetime and if he happens to die before his full premium is repaid, his beneficiary will receive the remaining payments.

Next year, unknown to Harold, he will begin to experience the early signs of Alzheimer’s disease and, with the help of his family, will decide to move to an assisted-living facility. The initial costs of this life change are substantial and he’s grateful to have the option of commuting 10 percent of his future payments for a $8,396 payout. Exercising this feature will reduce his monthly payments to $717 for the duration of his life and he will still have the option of commuting up to 10 percent more of his future payments during any future contract year.

Our Financial Strength

The economic landscape is undeniably turbulent. While a number of financial institutions are reeling from these circumstances, The Standard continues to exceed expectations. That's because we know our most important promise is the one we make to our customers — to be there when you need us. Backing this up is the strength that stems from our disciplined financial practices and stability resulting from our long-term outlook. Fiscally conservative management allows us to weather economic uncertainty and ensures that we will keep our financial commitment to you.

Our balance sheet is the cornerstone of our financial strength and has provided us with a foundation for profitability through a wide range of economic cycles.

Bond Portfolio

Our bond portfolio is strong. Our strategy is to maintain a diversified portfolio of high quality fixed-maturity securities to keep us well protected if any industry experiences difficulties.

- Average portfolio rating of "A" as measured by Standard & Poor's
- No preferred or common equities
- No direct exposure to sub-prime or alt-A mortgages
- No credit default swaps, collateralized debt obligations or commercial paper
- No mortgage-backed securities of any kind

Commercial Mortgage Loan Portfolio

The profile of our commercial mortgage loan portfolio is entirely different from the mortgages that have been the subject of so much concern. We offer small commercial mortgage loans to borrowers who want a fixed rate over time, and we rigorously underwrite every commercial mortgage loan we make. The quality of our commercial mortgage loans is excellent, and our delinquency rates are very low.

- The average loan-to-value ratio on new loans was 64 percent in 2008
- No preferred or common equities

The Standard Stands the Test of Time

In the July 2008 issue of Best's Review, Standard Insurance Company was recognized for maintaining an "A" rating or higher from A.M. Best Company since 1928. The Standard was honored to be among one of only 15 life/health insurers to consistently achieve an "A" rating (or higher) for more than 75 years. Given the rapidly evolving markets, changing customer needs and challenging economic times, this is a significant accomplishment. We are proud of this longstanding track record of financial strength.

Annuities are intended as long-term savings vehicles.

This Disclosure summarizes important points for you to consider before you purchase Standard Insurance Company's (The Standard's) Restricted Single-Premium Immediate Annuity.

The Restricted Single-Premium Immediate Annuity is a single-premium immediate annuity that includes certain restrictions in order to meet specific financial goals. You purchase the annuity with one premium payment or with annuitization of your annuity funds under a deferred annuity. You select the payment option that best suits your needs, and you select the payment frequency for which you would like payments to be made. In certain instances your selection of payment option will be subject to regulation or rules, such as purchasing the annuity for purposes of Medicaid eligibility. Payments received prior to age 59½ are subject to a 10% IRS penalty unless an exception applies.

The Standard does not make any representations regarding how the purchase of this annuity might affect you or your spouse's eligibility for Medicaid (or your state's equivalent of Medicaid). If you have any questions about the Restricted Single-Premium Immediate Annuity, please ask your broker, financial and/or legal advisor.

THE ANNUITY CONTRACT How do I get a Restricted Single-Premium Immediate Annuity started.

Annuity An immediate annuity allows you to pay a premium for the contract, select a payment option and payment mode, and begin to receive payments immediately after the end of the first payment mode has passed. The maximum payment frequency for an immediate annuity is annually.

Annuitant The annuitant is the person on whose life any life-contingent payment options are based.

Owner The owner is the person or entity who has purchased the contract and to whom the contract is issued.

Issue Age A Restricted Single-Premium Immediate Annuity may be issued for owners age 18-90 and for annuitants age 0-90.

Contract Effective Date The Restricted Single-Premium Immediate Annuity's effective date is the date premium is received in The Standard's home office. The effective date is shown in the contract's data page.

Premium A Restricted Single-Premium Immediate Annuity may be established with premium of $15,000 to $1,000,000 (or more with prior home-office approval).

Restrictive Endorsement In addition to completing and signing an application, you must also apply for, sign and date the Contract Endorsement – Restrictions which is submitted with your application.

ANNUITY BENEFITS How are my annuity benefits paid from my immediate annuity?

Payment Option You have numerous payment options from which to select how you will be paid annuity benefits. The payment option you have elected is described in the contract's data page. However, in certain instances your selection of payment option will be subject to regulation or rules, such as purchasing the annuity for purposes of Medicaid eligibility.

Payment Mode You select how often you would like to be paid the annuity benefit. Examples: monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, annually. The payment mode you have selected is shown in the contract's data page. In certain instances your selection of payment mode will be subject to regulation or rules, such as purchasing the annuity for purposes of Medicaid eligibility.

Annuity Benefit The Standard determines your annuity benefit amount based on the premium you have paid, and the payment option and payment mode you have elected. The annuity benefit is shown in the contract's data page.

Annuity Benefit Commencement Date Typically, the date annuity benefits begin is after the end of the first payment mode. For example, if you choose a monthly payment mode, the first annuity benefit is paid one month after the contract effective date. Payment of annuity benefits must begin no later than one year after the contract effective date. The annuity benefit commencement date is shown in the contract's data page.
