¹ A feature offered "by current company practice" is not a contractual guarantee of this annuity contract and can be removed or changed at any time.

² While certain included features may have no explicit cost, a product with a built-in GLWB feature may offer lower credited interest rates, lower index cap rates, lower participation rates and/or greater index margins than products that don't have these built-in features.

³ Also known as the GLWB roll-up amount.

Fixed index annuities are not a direct investment in the stock market. They are long-term insurance products with guarantees backed by the issuing company. They provide the potential for interest to be credited based in part on the performance of specific indices, without the risk of loss of premium due to market downturns or fluctuation. Although fixed index annuities guarantee no loss of premium due to market downturns, deductions from your accumulation value for additional optional benefit riders could under certain scenarios exceed interest credited to your accumulation value, which would result in loss of premium. They may not be appropriate for all clients. Interest credits to a fixed index annuity will not mirror the actual performance of the relevant index.

The term financial professional is not intended to imply engagement in an advisory business in which compensation is not related to sales. Financial professionals that are insurance licensed will be paid a commission on the sale of an insurance product.

"Income" or "lifetime income" refers to guaranteed payment of lifetime payment amounts ("LPAs") as defined in the rider. It does not refer to interest credited to the contract. Advise clients to consult with their own tax advisor regarding tax treatment of LPAs, which will vary according to individual circumstances.
