Uncomplicate Retirement®

Fixed-indexed annuities offer indexed strategies that earn interest based, in part, on positive performance of an external index or ETF. The following chart uses historical market returns to illustrate the hypothetical performance of indexed strategies that are available with the AssuranceSelectSM 5 Plus from Great American Life Insurance Company®.

Indexed interest rates for the strategy are based on changes in the index over one-year terms, which are not based on calendar years but begin on the 6th and 20th of a month. The information presented above reflects caps and participation rates that are current for the AssuranceSelect™ 5 Plus as of the date shown. The actual caps and participation rates that we might have applied during this period would have been different and might have been significantly lower.

Returns prior to the index launch date are back-tested. Back-tested performance is not actual performance, but is hypothetical. Back-tested returns were calculated using the same methodology that was in effect when the index was officially launched. Back-tested performance is subject to inherent limitations because it reflects application of an index methodology and selection of index constituents in hindsight. No theoretical approach can take into account all of the factors in the markets in general and the impact of decisions that might have been made during the actual operation of an index. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Back-tested index returns are not indicative of the interest that would have been credited to a fixed-indexed annuity during the same time period. When you buy a fixed-indexed annuity, you own an insurance contract. You are not buying shares of any stock or index.
