

Index crediting designed to grow your clients' benefit base

Retirement Stages 7® Fixed Index Annuity

Delaware Life Insurance Company's Retirement Stages 7° Fixed Index Annuity ("FIA") allows your clients to earn interest and grow their account values with three Index options:

- the CROCI Sectors III USD 5.5% Volatility Control Index (CROCI),
- the S&P 500 Index®
- and the Morgan Stanley Global Opportunities (MSGO) Index.

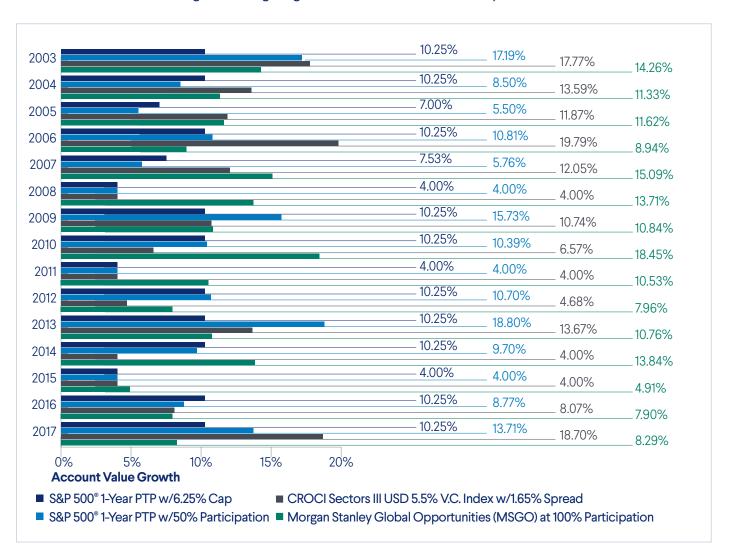

This piece provides a side-by-side performance comparison of these index options.

Please note: The annuity does not own shares in any index, index fund or equity or bond investment. Your clients' money is not invested in the index, but may earn interest based on the index's performance.

Index Performance Comparison<sup>1</sup>

When combined with the Retirement Stages 7° optional STAIR° (Stacked Accumulation Income Rider°), available for an additional fee — which grows your clients' benefit base by a guaranteed 4% per year — these Indexes could translate to significant higher guaranteed lifetime income for your clients.

Past performance, actual or simulated, is not a reliable indicator of future results. The returns shown represent actual historical S&P 500° Index returns adjusted with the current cap and participation rate to represent how a FIA index with these crediting methods, based on the S&P 500° Index would have performed.

<sup>1</sup>The Volatility Control Index has been calculated by Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch (the "Index Calculation Agent") on a live basis since March 13, 2015 (the "Index Live Date") and has been retrospectively calculated using historical data and the same methodology since April 4, 1996 (the "Index Commencement Date"). Therefore, the Volatility Control Index has very limited performance history and no actual investment which allowed tracking of the performance of the Volatility Control Index was possible before the Index Live Date. Furthermore, the index methodology of the Volatility Control Index was designed, constructed and tested using historical market data and based on knowledge of factors that may have affected its performance. Any returns prior to the Index Live Date were achieved by means of a retroactive application of the back-tested index methodology designed with the benefit of hindsight. The actual performance of the Volatility Control Index may bear little relation to the retrospectively calculated performance of the Volatility Control Index if the market behaves differently than it has in the past.

There are risks associated with the CROCI methodology, the CROCI Sectors Index and the Index: no assurance can be given that the CROCI methodology will be successful at identifying undervalued companies; there is no assurance that (i) the three industry sectors chosen will outperform the other industry sectors or (ii) the 30 chosen stocks will outperform the remaining stocks in the component indices; even if the strategy of the CROCI Sectors Index is successful and it outperforms the component indices, the level of the Index may decline; because the Index is subject to a maximum notional exposure of 100% to the CROCI Sectors Index and will not adjust its exposure to the CROCI Sectors Index by more than 10% on any day, the Index may not be able to maintain a fixed target volatility level of 5.5%; if the realized volatility of the CROCI Sectors Index is less than 5.5%, the CROCI Volatility Control Index may have a 100% exposure to the CROCI Sectors Index, but a target volatility level less than 5.5%; because the Index's exposure to the CROCI Sectors Index on each day is calculated based on the historical realized volatility the CROCI Sectors Index, the realized volatility of the Index could differ significantly from the target volatility level; the Index is subject to currency exchange rate risk; and Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch, as the sponsor and calculation agent of the Index, may adjust the Index and/or its underlying indices in a way that affects their respective levels and may have conflicts of interest.

There are risks associated with any product linked to this Index:

- Allocation to a crediting method using the Index provides the potential for interest to be credited based in part on the performance of the Index.
- The Index may not increase in value due to a number of factors and as a result there may be no interest credited to the annuity contract.
- Because the Index is managed to a volatility target, the Index performance will not match the performance of the underlying Index components and may dampen the performance of the Index in rising markets
- The Index has a limited performance history and past performance is no indication of future performance.
- The Index may be comprised of a small number of index components at any given time and the performance of the index involves risk associated with international and US equities and bonds, commodities and precious metals, which may impact the Index value and the interest credited to the annuity contract
- Premium allocated to a crediting method using the Index is not a direct investment in the stock markets, bond markets, commodities, precious metals or in the index.
- Purchasers of products linked to the index will have no access to the components underlying the Index.
- The Index is calculated on excess return basis.
